

MG Consultores has a twenty-year record in Search and Selection of Executives and Professionals for companies both in Chile and in the neighbouring countries of Argentina, Perú , Bolivia, Brasil, Uruguay, Paraguay and Ecuador.

Our services incorporate methodologies within the area of human resources and communications, offering our clients a personalized service.

This phrase is not for publicity, rather we are personally committed with our clients, independent of their business volume, and we guarantee them a direct participation of MG Consultores partners from the beginning to the end of their project.

In the area of search and selection, we care fundamentally for the candidates character and way of being, that enables them to contribute their academic background and work experience in a given culture and organization. Management evaluations and carrier potential are assesed using the same methodology.

We advise our clients in Organizational Communication (internal communication audits, development and execution of communication plans, publications and organizational communications, communication plans in times of crisis and emergencies, recognition and communication about employee worthiness, Public Relations).

We also carry out Coaching for Executives. This includes the evaluation, diagnosis and training of professionals in order to develop and potentate career strategies.

Our Image consultancy, far from being frivolous, includes an evaluation, diagnosis, and plan for personal image and style.
